New Matrox DualHead2Go Digital Edition Now Shipping

Montreal, Canada, May 23, 2007 — Matrox Graphics Inc., the leading manufacturer of graphics solutions for professionals, is pleased to announce that the new DualHead2Go Digital Edition is now shipping. Part of our Graphics eXpansion Modules \(GXM\) product line, this external multi-display upgrade device allows you to connect two digital monitors to your notebook or desktop for an impressive, productivity enhancing, dual-monitor set-up.

“DualHead2Go Digital Edition is ideal for financial, energy, commodities, and insurance trading professionals looking for a simple and cost-effective solution to increase productivity,” says Sam Recine, business development manager, Matrox Graphics Inc. “Since it is an external device, IT managers can add multi-display support to notebooks or computers with no available expansion slots, desktops with integrated graphics with limited display outputs, and validated mission critical systems under manufacturer warranty.”

Graphics eXpansion Modules

Matrox Graphics eXpansion Modules (GXM) are small external boxes that are simple to set up—there is no need to open the computer to insert additional parts. The operating system detects the GXM as an ultra-widescreen monitor which is then split into two or more standard resolutions, harnessing your system's existing 2D, 3D, and video acceleration graphics hardware.

System Compatibility

DualHead2Go Digital Edition includes support for Windows Vista™, Windows XP, Windows® 2000, Windows® XP-64 bit operating systems and Mac® OS X v10.4, and is compatible with many desktops and notebooks. For complete details, visit the online compatibility page.
